Pre - Enrollment and Fees

Applicants must be 14 years of age or older and must present their working papers for the Fire School Committee before they can take any program. In addition, they must have approval from their Chief Officer. Participants are limited in number in each class.

Instructors for each class are subject to change based on their availability.

Registration for the 2026 Fire Academy Weekends is now open. To register, please visit www.CCRFA.org/. Most classes are offered through Bucks County Community College, and registration for those courses will take place on the Bucks Marketplace. CCRFA-sponsored classes will have a separate registration process available directly on the CCRFA website.

The following classes will not be listed on the Bucks Marketplace: Fire Photography; Facebook, Firefighters on TV, and Joe C. Public's Perception of Their Neighborhood Fire Company; Bucks/Acadis Seminar; Coroner's Class; Emergency Networking; Stop the Bleed; and CPR/First Aid.

Photography maybe taking place during CCRFA Fire Academy Weekends. If you would not be photographed, please let your instructor or CCRFA Staff know.

Please note that payment will not be made through the Bucks Marketplace this year. While Bucks will list applicable classes at a cost of $0, class fees do apply. All billing will be issued directly to your home fire department or organization by the Cambria County Regional Firefighters Association, consistent with previous years.

The deadline to register is March 15th. Any changes to registrations must be submitted by emailing cambriafireschool@gmail.com no later than March 15th. Additionally, lunch will not be provided during the final weekend of classes on April 25th and 26th, so participants should plan accordingly.
